

Get Political 101: A Guide on Political and Electoral Systems, Structures and Processes

This guide provides an accessible overview of political and electoral systems. It explains how power is distributed, how representatives are elected, and how decisions are taken at local, national and European levels. It covers key institutions, democratic processes, citizens' rights and opportunities for participation, offering young people and first-time voters a clear introduction to how democracy works in practice.

National Political Institutions Peddy Papers

The National Political Institutions Peddy Paper were implemented in the eight countries by March 2026 and included a training session on the Get Political 101 Guide with at least 10 young participants, visits to local political institutions, such as, their region's municipality, parish's headquarters, national parliament and a sociopolitical city tour.

Exchange of Political Institutions Peddy Papers

Following the National Political Institutions Peddy Papers, each partner participated on an Exchange of Political Institutions Peddy Papers. The aim of the Exchange of Political Institutions is to promote networking and allow direct interaction with different perspectives and European sociopolitical realities. These gave the opportunities to exchange practices and experiences between different countries, gave the possibility to young “representatives” from all countries to learn from each other.

People from Italy visited Spain, people from Spain visited Belgium, people from Belgium visited Cyprus, people from Cyprus visited France, people from France visited Greece, people from Greece visited Slovenia, people from Slovenia visited Portugal and people from Portugal visited Italy.
